

Prayers for Grace

from Reckless Grace

Our grace process starts with receiving a revelation of love from the Father. We hope these prayer cards will help you step into the fullness of grace, bringing reconciliation and restoration to your relationships. Print them out and read the prayers aloud, if possible. Receive these words and be at peace.

RELEASING GRACE TO YOUR OFFENDER

God, your Word says love covers a multitude of sins, not just in your eyes but also in mine by my new birthright in Christ Jesus. Help me see my offenders as you do. Soften my heart. Help me receive your love anew so that I can impart your love. Help me see and experience your perfect love for them. Show me how your heart breaks for them. Fill me with compassion to see beyond my offense and to release your grace and forgiveness to find true healing.

Thank you for your patience as I learn what it means to release your grace. Forgive my unwillingness to release your transformative grace before I see the repentance I expect from others. Teach me to initiate grace like you do. Help me embrace a lifestyle of grace. Help me see offense as an opportunity to unlearn everything I thought I knew about grace and relearn it in the safety of your loving arms. Amen.

Help me see my offenders
as you do.
Soften my heart.

STRUGGLING WITH OFFENSE

God, you are not the author of offense. I break off the offenses clinging to my mind and heart. Your grace confronts offense. I release freedom over every offended heart right now, God, that every heart that's broken would be put back together again, that your grace would begin to heal and massage that heart of stone into a heart of flesh once again, that we would let go of that grip on offense, that we would feel the peaceful rest in your embrace.

I pray you would release over every offended heart a divine healing—a supernatural ability to let go of offenses. I pray you will gently pull the offense from our vision. Release the joy of heaven, Lord God, that it would explode that offense apart, leaving no root of bitterness, in Jesus' name. Amen.

I release freedom
over every offended
heart right now,
God, that every heart that's broken
would be put back together again.

STRUGGLING WITH MISDIRECTED ANGER

Lord God, I come against the anger that stirs me to sin. While there's nothing sinful about passion or outrage, I come against misdirected anger that has been used to attach a lie or a label to any life. God, your Word says you aim your anger and wrath only at that which interferes with your love. May it be so with me!

May I defend your love with my very life. May I die defending your grace. May I learn what it really means to lay down my life for the sake of your love—a love that saves, delivers, and heals. And in that love, may I release grace, pulling every lie and label off every life, in Jesus' name. Amen.

God, your Word says you aim your anger and wrath only at that which interferes with your love. May it be so with me!

NEEDING GOD'S GRACE FOR A DIFFICULT DISCUSSION

Lord, I release your grace over every difficult discussion that's about to occur. Grace confronts us with the need to have brave communication and divinely led conversations.

That may be so uncomfortable to hearts, but God, I pray that you release grace over every difficult conversation right now. I pray for a spirit of understanding to permeate every difficult discussion between victim and victimizer, abused and abuser.

May the result of these conversations be freedom for captives and healing for all. I proclaim and declare liberty in those discussions, that they would not escalate tensions, but they would rather bring and release peace in the powerful name of Jesus Christ.

God, I pray that you release grace over every difficult conversation right now.

STRUGGLING TO FORGIVE YOURSELF

God give us grace to see through your eyes that we are forgiven for what we've done. We are pure, clean, and holy, even if we can come up with a thousand reasons why we might think otherwise.

God, I thank you that you forgave us long before we ever knew how to forgive ourselves or others. Your grace has been sufficient throughout time and eternity, so we come into agreement with that grace, even over the person in the mirror.

In forgiving others, we actually release grace over ourselves. Lord, let it be that the end of that equation is that we have the grace to release over others, so we can enjoy that grace back over our own lives. God, I pray for divine intervention for every situation in which we struggle to forgive ourselves. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.

God, I pray for divine intervention
for every situation
in which we struggle to forgive ourselves.

STRUGGLING TO FORGIVE OTHERS

Lord, I thank you that your Holy Spirit doesn't leave me weak or powerless; it empowers me to forgive myself and to forgive others. God, this is not something I can do in my own strength. It's impossible. Let me put your grace on display. Let me put your love on display. Let me be a conduit of your healing peace and the shalom of heaven to bring reconciliation and restoration.

For you, Father, in Christ, were reconciling the whole world back to yourself in the finished work of the cross. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Let me be a conduit of your healing peace.

LONGING TO SEE RESTORATION AND RECONCILIATION

God, I understand in my mind and receive in my heart that you've restored me back to right relationship with you so that we might enjoy a pure, powerful, significant union. I release reconciliation and restoration into the heart and life of everyone who is reading this prayer.

May these gifts begin to flow right now to minds and hearts, spirits and souls, and even into bodies—all things made new. Pains and diseases that have been attached to unforgiveness, be gone in Jesus' name. Healing is flowing right now. Any physical ailment, I cancel that out in the grace and the power of Jesus Christ. I thank you that everything we need is in your blood. Amen.

I release reconciliation and restoration into the heart and life
of everyone.
